

Coaching School

You can learn more about a person in an hour of play than in a week of conversation. –Plato

Professional coaching brings out the best in people. Every time you coach another person to high performance, you glow with aliveness. Spend 6 playful days with us on Ibiza, and we will make you one of the finest coaches in the world.

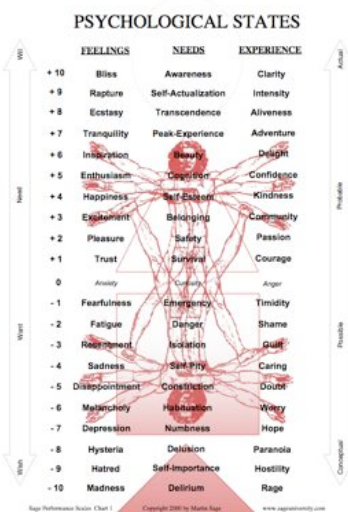

Most training for coaches is based on outdated problem solving methods. Despite breakthroughs in pleasure based motivation and training, too many coaches unconsciously fall back on advice, suggestion, programming and criticism.

But the most effective coaching is pure fun. By approaching life as a game and business as a sport, you live life as a high performance event.

No other training can give you the tools to move people like this. Coaching School shows you how to create the magic of team spirit. Advanced coaching systems like ours employ transformers—patterns of communication that go far deeper than linguistic programming, body language, and gestalt therapy. Our unique transpersonal approach inspires people to live their lives as a series of peak experiences.

Sage University's 6-Day Coaching School shows you how to use the Ten Transformers to profoundly alter the deepest vibrations of human perception. You don't have to change people's minds, or teach them anything in order to motivate them. This remarkable new communication technology gives you amazing new coaching tools that add power to your existing approach.

Coaching is Inspired Communication

Our approach utilizes the Sage Performance Scales. Based on Maslow's hierarchy of human needs, these scales provide an accurate map of the states of consciousness people move through on their way to high performance. As your communication begins to flow from the deepest reaches of your being, your natural charisma will attract the people you want to inspire.

Attending this workshop will be one of the most exciting things you have ever done in your life. The event is fast-paced and the information is fascinating.

There is no greater feeling than the high you get when you bring another person into the lightness and vitality of high performance. We will show you every step in the game of lifting people to the sheer joy of peak performance.

Discover New Dimensions of Aliveness

This exciting 6-day experience is the gateway to an entirely new dimension of human connection. You will master the art of seeing to open new dimensions of experience with your clients.

In an environment of unconditional positive regard you will come to deeply appreciate the good intentions and compassion that flow from the core of your being. Together with your classmates you will gel as a team and feel the surge of power that comes from striving together to create powerful transformations in one another.

Curiosity is the magic ingredient that transforms ordinary people into great players. We will show you how to transform the fire of desire into the flame of curiosity.

Join Us in the Winners Circle

As your instinctive intelligence awakens, you will discover how to turn on the three engines of the human body—intellect (head), sensation (heart), and energy (groin). You will master the internal switch that shifts you from normal, waking attention to the second attention—the state of higher consciousness known to all great athletes and performers. Your aliveness will lift teams to astonishing levels of achievement.

Coaching is the fastest growing profession in the global marketplace. Join us for 6 exciting days to master the finest coaching tools available anywhere.

