

Living The Dream

Millionaire 10-Day

You can learn to earn a million Euros per year by harnessing the power of momentum. People who achieve momentum encounter far less resistance and generate far more force than those who repeatedly stop and start.

Millionaire 10-Day shows you how to achieve and maintain momentum in your business. Here you will learn to achieve the blistering pace necessary for moving large amounts of money. More importantly, you will learn to maintain the intensity necessary to win in the game of business.

Most people waste their lives away waiting for something to happen. They dream of easy money, and fail to grasp what it takes to earn the income they desire. They would rather be creative than prosperous. Other folks are content to slave away at something they don't enjoy and to spend their lives in bitter disappointment, regretting the life they never lived.

There is a better way. If you row a boat, and then stop, you have to expend great energy just to get going again. But when a team of oarsmen get in synch and then maintain a rhythmic pace, they can easily cover great distances with little effort.

Typically people stop and start their business projects, wasting time and resources, and squandering the efforts of other people. At the end of their lives they are exhausted, and no closer to financial freedom.

You can learn to move your projects through the action stages that build momentum. But you won't acquire those skills in traditional business school. We created Sage University to give you the actual experience you need.

When you reach the point that you ready to do what it takes, our instructors can show you the steps and instill the discipline you need to succeed. The professors at Sage University have earned success in the real world. Forget about theoretical lectures. What you need is to conduct "mission impossible" projects with other eager players who simply will not be denied.

Your classmates will become your support team. To achieve success, you will have to pull together throughout the rest of the year with other bright, curious entrepreneurs. You will have to hold one another absolutely accountable for the procedures that produce results.

How It Works

You can move a lot more money when you can move people. Dale Carnegie had it right. When you learn to win friends and influence people, you can attract the clients and customers you need to achieve success on a larger scale. As it stands, you are turning people off, and you don't see how you are doing it. And no one is telling you the truth about why they don't want to buy from you.

Millionaire 10-Day provides 10 days of instant, accurate feedback. You will get the absolute accountability you need to become aware of your fatal business flaws. You will become acutely aware how your mood is creating your money. You will learn to notice when your feelings or actions shut people down and push them away from your products and services. Over time, you will acquire the awareness and the inner discipline you need to light other people up with your aliveness.

Millionaire 10-Day is elite business training for people who are absolutely committed to achieving success. You should only take this course when you are ready to leave your comfort zone and step onto the professional playing field shared by a few high performance people. You must be willing to follow instructions and to participate with enthusiasm. Your level of participation will impact your own outcome, but it will affect your classmates, as well. Before you enroll you will want to be sure to spend some time with our team to make certain that you are clear about the level of challenge.

Earning real prosperity requires tremendous effort. You have to play hard with other players who are as committed to success as you are. You must be willing to play at a scorching pace and generate all the enthusiasm necessary to get results under any circumstances. Great business players are willing to do the things that other people prefer to avoid. They can relinquish their fearful egos and build the kind of character that other people can trust.

You can spend the rest of your life explaining your point of view about money, or you can join the people who are playing the big game. If it is time to make your move, join us for October on Ibiza for the most exciting game you will ever play.

The Millionaire 10-Day is expensive and it is rigorous. It will cost you 10 days and 2.000 Euros per year to unwind your stress and to find the pulse of pleasure you need to win the game of life.
